

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

THE numerous additions to the Society's Library have long rendered a new edition of its Catalogue a desideratum. A comparison of the present and former editions will best show the extent of the increase which has been made to the Library generally, as well as that of the additions to particular departments. It may, however, be stated that, whilst there is scarcely any department which has not received some accessions, there are several in which the additions have been very considerable.

The Ecclesiastical Music, both printed and manuscript, has been materially increased, several Oratorios have been added, and the Collections of Songs and Instrumental Music have both been much augmented. Amongst the additions to the Collections of Songs is an edition, published in 1627, of the remarkably curious and interesting Dutch work, "Friesche Lust-hof," originally brought out at Amsterdam in 1621, under the editorship of J. J. Starter, an Englishman, containing many songs set to old English ballad tunes, some of which tunes have come down to us mainly through the medium of this book. But the greatest augmentation received by any department is in the Operas, in which the collection of English Operas and other musical pieces has been so largely increased as to render it, in all probability, unparalleled in extent, except, perhaps, in the great public libraries. The English Operas and other musical pieces now comprise nearly 400 different works. Some interesting additions have been made to the collection of type-printed music.

The additional manuscripts contain some of great interest, viz. a vocal score of Mendelssohn's Elijah, chiefly in his autograph; the autograph score of the March composed by Auber for the Opening of the International Exhibition in 1862; the scores of Handel's Solomon and Acis and Galatea, with the additional accompaniments composed for them by Sir Michael Costa in his autograph; an autograph "Consort" for stringed instruments by Matthew Locke; a service by Dr. Greene, and works of various kinds by Dr. Arnold, Samuel Wesley and Michael William Balfe, all in the autographs of their composers. The numerous unpublished Lectures on Music of the late Professor Taylor, with the music employed in their illustration, also stand conspicuous in this department.

The department of Musical Literature has been greatly augmented. Many valuable Treatises and Essays (both ancient and modern) on the science and practice of music have been acquired, and large accessions have been made to the Musical History and Biography, subjects which have of late years received (particularly in France and Germany) more than usual attention. There will also be found several Sermons and other writings relating to the Music of the Church, as well as some interesting publications illustrating that of the Theatre. There is likewise a very fine and nearly perfect copy of the Holy Scriptures issued in 1585, of the version known as "The Bishops' Bible."

For the possession of nearly one hundred and fifty of the works which appear for the first time in the present edition of the Catalogue, the Society is indebted to the liberality and friendly feeling of several of its Members and others.

PREFACE TO THE FORMER EDITION.

NINE years have elapsed since a Catalogue of the Library of the SACRED HARMONIC SOCIETY was presented to the Members, and seven years have passed away since a Supplement to that Catalogue was issued. During the latter period the acquisitions of the Library were neither few nor unimportant, and a desire was felt by many Members that a knowledge of them should be communicated in the form of a second Supplement to the Catalogue. Upon careful consideration, however, it was deemed more advisable that an entirely new Catalogue, embracing the whole contents of the Library, should be compiled.

In placing such Catalogue before the Members, it will not, perhaps, be thought superfluous that it should be preceded by a few remarks on other musical libraries.

Whilst the students in other Arts and Sciences, or particular branches of Learning, have generally enjoyed the advantages derivable from libraries attached to some public institution relating especially to each,—such, for instance, as the Divinity collections in the Library of Sion College and that of Dr. Williams, the Law Libraries of the Inns of Court, the Library of Oriental History and Literature of the East India Company, and others of a like kind,—the musical student has had to seek his knowledge, more particularly concerning the history of his art, in widely scattered and scantily furnished repositories.

It is true, indeed, that in the magnificent Library of the British Museum, and in the Bodleian Library at Oxford, there are very many volumes of music and works relating to it, and that their numbers are, at least as regards English publications, being annually increased by means of the copy privilege possessed by those institutions; but such works are in both establishments mingled with the general library, and must be sought for in the general catalogue, a circumstance greatly diminishing, and, in some cases, almost destructive of, their usefulness.¹ The Library of Christ Church College, Oxford, possesses the valuable collections of ancient music bequeathed to it by Dean Aldrich and Professor Goodson, which, it is believed, are kept separated from the general library, but these collections are (as can be seen by reference to the manuscript catalogues of them in the Society's Library) limited in character, and no means have ever been taken to extend them. These observations are also applicable to the collections in the Music School at Oxford, and to those in the Libraries of some of the Cathedrals.

The same system prevails in the Public Libraries of the Continent as in those of England; the musical works not being kept apart from those on other subjects. The only exception is in the Imperial Library at Vienna, where a collection of 9,000 musical works contained in 13,000 volumes is said to be kept quite distinct from the general library.

The students of the different continental Conservatories of Music have, usually, it is believed, the advantages of good libraries. The Library of the Conservatoire de Musique at Paris contains about 13,000 volumes; the collection being peculiarly rich in operas, and works of a kindred nature, but deficient in other departments. It includes an extraordinary assemblage of libretti of operas and musical pieces, bound in 5,000 volumes.

Whilst such is the state of music in libraries in general, and when the comparative destitution of the English musical student in respect of library provision is considered, it must be obvious that a library expressly devoted to the reception of music and works connected therewith, established on a comprehensive basis, so as to embrace all classes of music and musical literature, capable of almost indefinite extension, and placed under such regulations as to render it as generally accessible as is consistent with a proper regard for its preservation, is a possession of which a musical society may justly feel proud. Whether the library of the Sacred Harmonic Society is of such a character or not will be best judged of by a perusal of the following catalogue.

In drawing attention to some of the most prominent and interesting objects in the Society's Library, the extensive assemblage of early musical works printed from type, comprising church music, madrigals, songs, and other vocal and instrumental compositions, many of uncommon rarity, calls for particular notice. The madrigals include a nearly perfect series of the productions of that brilliant constellation of talented men—the English madrigal writers who flourished during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

The Ecclesiastical music comprises the Sarum Missal of 1527, and that of Ratisbon of 1518; the Offertories, Hymns, Motetts, Masses, and other productions of Palestrina, Orlando di Lasso, Adrian Willaert, and many other eminent composers of the Italian and Flemish schools; the Cantiones of Tallis and Byrd; the Musica Deo Sacra of Thomas Tomkins; the very rare and curious sheet published by Matthew Locke, containing his Communion Service, with the Kyrie set ten different times; both editions of Edward Lowe's Directions for performance of Cathedral Service; several metrical Psalters; and numerous other valuable and interesting works. The most notable of the type-printed works of this class, however, is Barnard's Selected Church Music, of which the Society has the good fortune to possess eight of the ten vocal parts. This important work (the first collection of English Cathedral Music ever published) appeared in 1641, but, from its being printed in separate parts only, many of which have, from various causes, been lost or destroyed, it has resulted that, for a very great number of years, no such thing as a perfect set has been known to exist. For a considerable part of a century, eight vocal parts in the Library of Hereford Cathedral formed the largest number of the parts remaining in any one place, the Library of Lichfield Cathedral coming next with a set of seven parts, and some other churches and private persons possessing an odd part or two. In January last, however, the eight parts now in the Society's Library (which contain amongst them the two parts deficient at Hereford) were acquired by purchase, thereby placing this Library, as regards the possession of this work, in the same enviable position as that of Hereford. The acquisition of these parts becomes of higher interest from the fact that the Society also possesses seven manuscript volumes (containing as many separate vocal parts) of the collections used by Barnard in the compilation of his printed work. The type-printed music of an early date likewise includes the Psyche of Matthew Locke, several of Purcell's dramatic compositions, some of the operas of Lully and contemporary French composers, as well as other productions for the theatre. The greater portion of the numerous collections of songs published during the Commonwealth and the subsequent period, until the reign of George I., by John Playford and his contemporaries and successors, as well as some curious sets of old French songs, are also to be found in this collection. Music for that once popular but now obsolete instrument, the lute (amongst which may be particularly pointed out the Booke of Tabliture, published by William Barley, at London, in 1596; the No-biltà di Roma of Gasparo Fiorini, published at Venice in 1573; and the Lautten Buch of Wolf Heckel, printed at Strasbourg in 1562, which exemplify the different kinds of tablature for the instrument in use in England, Italy, and Germany), and for other instruments also fallen into desuetude, possessing an interest not only for the musical antiquary, but for all who are desirous of tracing the progressive course of instrumental composition, will likewise be met with here. For the many other interesting features of this part of the collection the reader must be referred to the Catalogue itself. In one point of view, the collection of type-printed music—produced in different countries, and at various times, during a period of upwards of three hundred years, and including specimens of the beautiful types used by the Italian, Flemish, and English printers in the sixteenth century, the bold but less finished English, and the rough Italian types of the succeeding age, the rude German printing of the last century, and the most recent productions of our own times,—presents a feature of great interest, affording, as it does, abundant illustrations of the rise, progress, perfection, decadence and renovation of the art of musical typography; a subject which, it is believed, has been but imperfectly, if at all, treated on by the typographical historians.

Concerning the engraved music in the Library it will suffice to say, that, in the several classes into which the contents of the Library is divided, it embraces all or nearly all the great standard classical works appertaining to each, besides many others of lesser importance but yet of great interest. Amongst the specimens of early music engraving may be remarked, the Parthenia of Byrd, Bull and Gibbons, the Fantasies of Orlando Gibbons, the Choice Psalmes of Dr. Child, and the Organ pieces of Frescobaldi.

The manuscripts in the Library are principally unpublished compositions, several of which derive additional interest from being in their composers' autographs. An opera by Haydn, and works of various descriptions by Henry Purcell, Drs. Blow, Croft, Greene, Boyce, and Arne; Durante, Clari, and Geminiani, may be especially pointed to amongst these. The collection of music formerly belonging to Dr. Benjamin Cooke, containing the whole of his own compositions, many in various stages of completion, forms a prominent feature of the manuscript department. A large portion of the manuscripts consists of ecclesiastical music, amongst which is an illuminated antiphonary of remarkably neat execution. A small but valuable collection of autograph letters of eminent composers, &c., is another object of interest in this department.

The large assemblage of works gathered together under the title of "Musical Literature" may, perhaps, be regarded as the specialty of the Society's Library. It is a remarkable fact that musicians in general, although sedulously seeking to attain to great knowledge of the practice of their art, have manifested considerable indifference as to its history, and this indifference has so completely pervaded all classes of them, that even those who have formed musical libraries of greater or lesser extent, have rarely been found to possess much in the nature of musical literature beyond two or three treatises and one of the histories of Hawkins or Burney. Yet it is surely not of small consequence that musicians should seek to obtain a just appreciation of their art by acquiring some knowledge, beyond that afforded by those works, of its progress ! Between eighty and ninety years have elapsed since the histories of Hawkins and Burney were given to the world, and since their publication no general history of music has appeared ; yet, in the interval, what vast advances have been made in the art ! Modern orchestral composition has been introduced and perfected ; operatic music has undergone a total change ; choral performance has attained a height of excellence never before reached ; and skilled performers in nearly every branch of the art now reckon by hundreds (perhaps thousands), where, at the time in question, they only counted by scores.

To collect and bring together such stores of information as will show the progress made and making in the science and practice of music, and enable us to form a due estimate of its present state by affording the means of comparison with that of past times, and which, whilst supplying as far as possible the place of any general history, may likewise serve as materials for the future historian, seems peculiarly the province of a musical sodality possessing such a collection of music as is owned by this Society. The Musical Literature in the Society's Library consists of—Treatises and other works on the theory and practice of the art, including nearly every important work, ancient or modern, on the subject : Works relating to the history of music, or the lives of its professors and others directly or indirectly connected with its practice : Lyric and other poetry, including a large collection of the word books issued for performances at the provincial and other festivals, concerts, &c. : Works, showing the state of Cathedral and other choirs, and the condition of Church music at different periods : Works on the Drama, Theatres, &c., illustrating the state of dramatic music : with others of a more miscellaneous character, but all tending to enlighten us as to the progress of music.

In the following Catalogue, the contents of each of the three divisions of the Library—Printed Music, Manuscripts and Musical Literature—have been classed in such a manner as was thought most likely to facilitate the researches of the majority of students ; whilst a general Alphabetical Index to every work in the collection has been compiled, for the service of those who prefer such a means of reference.

REGULATIONS FOR THE LIBRARY OF THE SACRED HARMONIC SOCIETY.

1st. THAT the Library be considered as established for the purpose of reference only.

2nd. That Members of the Society, on giving notice at one of the weekly meetings, be allowed at the following meeting, or previously, as may be arranged between them and the Librarian, to refer to any particular work in the Library ; but not to take it away without leave of the Committee, upon a written application made for that purpose through the Librarian, and for a limited time only, to be then named.

3rd. That such works as may be lent from the Library may at any time be called in by the Librarian.

4th. That Members shall be answerable for any loss or damage that may be sustained by their using any work belonging to the Library.

DONATIONS TO THE LIBRARY will be thankfully received by Mr. W. H. HUSK (Librarian), or any other Member of the Committee, or at the Office of the Society, No. 6, in Exeter Hall.

These editions contain only the overtures, songs, &c., and choruses; the recitatives (excepting occasionally an accompanied one) being omitted. In some cases, also, the whole of the instrumental parts are not given.

9. ACIS AND GALATEA, a serenata. In vocal score. Edited by W. H. Monk. folio. London, 1849.
10. ALEXANDER'S FEST, oder die Gewalt der Musik . . . mit neuert-bearbeitung von W. A. Mozart. In full score. folio. Leipsic.
11. BELSAZER (Belshazzar), with additional accompaniments by J. F. Von Mosel. In full score; German text. folio. Vienna.

This arrangement differs materially from the oratorio as written by Handel, and published in England; many pieces being altogether omitted, and others transposed in order of succession. An alto part is added to the last chorus ("I will magnify Thee"), which Handel wrote in three vocal parts only.

Presented to the Society by Mr. William Henry Husk.

13. "JUDAS MACCABEUS, nach Mozart's Bearbeitung." In vocal score. oblong folio. Bonn and Cologne [1820?].

Presented to the Society by the Rev. F. J. Stainforth.

Alterations are made in some of the pieces, such as the addition of a short chorus to the air, "Father of Heaven," and the curtailment of the chorus, "Sing unto God." The authenticity of the additional accompaniments is considered doubtful, but this copy being in vocal score only, affords no opportunity for forming any opinion on the subject.

14. "MESSIAH," with the additional accompaniments of W. A. Mozart. In full score; German text. oblong folio, Leipsic.

91. BARNARD (Rev. John). "The First Book of Selected Church Musick, consisting of Services and Anthems, such as are now used in the Cathedrall and Collegiat Churches of this Kingdome. Never before Printed. Whereby such Bookes as were heretofore, with much difficulty and Charges, transcribed for the use of the Quire, are now, to the saving of much Labour and expence, publisht for the generall good of all such as shall desire them, either for publick or private exercise. Collected out of divers approved Authors, by John Barnard, one of the Minor Canons of the Cathedrall Church of Saint Paul, London." In separate parts; the Primus Contratenor, Secundus Contratenor, Tenor, and Bassus Decani, and the Medius, Secundus Contratenor, Tenor and Bassus Cantoris; the Medius Decani, Primus Contratenor Cantoris, and Organ part being wanting. Eight vols. folio. London, 1641.

No perfect copy of this work is known. For nearly 90 years the library of Hereford Cathedral enjoyed the distinction of possessing the least imperfect set, having eight of the ten vocal parts, viz.: the Medius, First and Second Contratenors and Tenor Decani, and the two Contratenors, Tenor and Bassus Cantoris, several of them being damaged. In January, 1862, however, the set above described, also consisting of eight vocal parts, was offered for sale and purchased for the Society's library. It is remarkable that each of these two sets contained the two vocal parts which were deficient in the other. Shortly afterwards a copy of the Bassus Decani part was purchased for the Hereford Library, and a transcript of the Society's copy of the Medius Cantoris part (unfortunately imperfect) was permitted to be made for it, thereby placing it in its former position of pre-eminence as to the number of parts possessed by it. The library of Lichfield

Cathedral contains seven of the vocal parts, viz.: the First Contratenor, Tenor and Bassus Decani, and the two Contratenors, Tenor, and Bassus Cantoria. Beyond these and two or three single parts in different hands, no other copies are known to exist, the statement in Mr. Botfield's "Notes on the Cathedral Libraries," of the existence of copies at Westminster Abbey and Berlin, proving, on inquiry, to be unfounded. It is noticeable that although an organ part is essential to perfect the work (several of the compositions included in it being incapable of performance without that instrument), no such part has ever been seen, and it is doubted whether it was published. Several odd manuscript parts of Services and Anthems by various composers are bound up at the ends of some of the parts in the Society's set, for a description of which see No. 1643. For the manuscript collections used by Barnard in the compilation of the work, see No. 1642.

Presented to the Society by Mr. Francis Deffell.

This opera, the last brought out by Cherubini, was produced at the Grand Opera, Paris, on 22nd July, 1833. It is to a great extent a compilation; various pieces from former works, and, it is believed, nearly the whole of the music of an unfinished opera called Koukourgi, written about 1793, being embodied in it. At the time of its production the composer was 73 years of age.

MANUSCRIPTS.

THE WORKS OF GEORGE FREDERIC HANDEL.

1600.

SAMSON, an oratorio, as altered and adapted by Edward Taylor, Professor of Music in Gresham College, for performance at Norwich Musical Festival, 1842. In full score.

2 vols. folio. 1842.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. J. E. Cox, D.D.

1601. SAMSON, an oratorio, as condensed for performance by the Sacred Harmonic Society; with additional accompaniments composed expressly for the Society by Sir M. Costa. In full score. The additions are distinguished from the original text by being written in red ink. large folio. 1851.

Presented to the Society by Sir Michael Costa.

1602. DEBORAH, an oratorio, as condensed for performance by the Sacred Harmonic Society; with additional accompaniments composed expressly for the Society by Sir M. Costa. In full score. The additions are distinguished from the original text by red ink. large folio. 1855.

Presented to the Society by Sir Michael Costa.

1603. JUDAS MACCABEUS, an oratorio. In full score.

oblong quarto. 3 vols.

This copy differs in several respects from the printed scores.

1604. JUDAS MACCABEUS, an oratorio, as condensed for performance by the Sacred Harmonic Society; with additional accompaniments composed expressly for the Society by Sir M. Costa. In full score, the additions being in Sir M. Costa's autograph. large oblong folio. 1857.

Presented to the Society by Sir Michael Costa.

1605. ISRAEL IN EGYPT, an oratorio; with additional accompaniments composed expressly for the Sacred Harmonic Society by Sir M. Costa. In full score, the additions in Sir M. Costa's autograph. large oblong folio. 1859.

Presented to the Society by Sir Michael Costa.

1606. SOLOMON, an oratorio, as condensed for performance by the Sacred Harmonic Society; with additional accompaniments composed expressly for the Society by Sir M. Costa. In full score, the additions in Sir M. Costa's autograph. large oblong folio. 1869.

Presented to the Society by Sir Michael Costa.

1607. ESTHER, an oratorio. In full score, in the autograph of John Christopher Smith. large folio. [1757?].

One of the latest of the numerous versions of this oratorio made by its composer. The pieces included in it and their order of succession are, with the exception of a recitative and air, which are wanting in the present copy, identical with those of a book of words published in 1757.

Presented to the Society by Mr. Charles J. Hargitt.

1608. OMNIPOTENCE, an oratorio; the music selected from the works of G. F. Handel [chiefly the Chandos Anthems], by Samuel Arnold, Mus. Doc. Autograph of Dr. Arnold in the first volume. In full score. 3 vols. quarto.

Presented to the Society by Mr. Joseph Hart.

1609. THE DETTINGEN TE DEUM, with additional accompaniments composed expressly for the Sacred Harmonic Society by Sir M. Costa. In full score, the additions being in Sir M. Costa's autograph. large oblong folio. 1859.

Presented to the Society by Sir Michael Costa.

1610. "O COME, LET US SING," anthem, composed for the chapel of James, Duke of Chandos. In full score. oblong quarto.
1611. "I WILL MAGNIFY THEE, O GOD," anthem, composed for the Duke of Chandos. In full score. oblong quarto.
1612. "I WILL MAGNIFY THEE, O GOD," anthem, composed for the Duke of Chandos. In full score. folio.

This copy (which was presented to the Society by Mr. Vincent Novello) does not contain the Treble solo, "The Lord is righteous," or the Tenor solo, "Happy are the people," which in the other scores precede the last chorus.

1613. "LET GOD ARISE," anthem (in the key of B flat), composed for the Duke of Chandos. In full score. oblong quarto.

1614. THE FOUR ANTHEMS composed for the Coronation of King George the Second, in 1727. In full score. folio.

Presented to the Society by John Lucius Dampier, Esq.

1615. "BLESSED ARE THEY," an anthem. In full score. oblong quarto.

This copy is incomplete, several movements being wanting, and blank pages left for their insertion.

1616. THE FIFTIETH PSALM, "Dixit Dominus," in Latin. In full score. oblong quarto.

1617. THE ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTEENTH PSALM, "Laudate Pueri," in Latin. In full score. oblong quarto.

1618. THE FIFTIETH PSALM, "Dixit Dominus;" the One Hundred and Thirteenth Psalm, "Laudate Pueri;" and the One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Psalm, "Nisi Dominus," in Latin. In full score. oblong quarto.

Presented to the Society by Mr. J. A. Novello.

1619. THE HYMN "MAGNIFICAT," in Latin. In full score. oblong quarto.

This composition is described in the present copy as "del Rev^{do}. Sr. Erba," which has led some persons to conclude that it is not the work of Handel; but there is a score in Handel's handwriting amongst his manuscripts in the Queen's possession, and it is believed that he composed the piece at Rome, about the year 1709.

1620. A PARAPHRASE OF THE FORTY-FIFTH PSALM, adapted to the music of the Ode for Queen Anne's Birth-day, 1713. In full score. quarto.

Presented to the Society by Mr. J. A. Novello.

1621. ACIS AND GALATEA, a serenata; with additional accompaniments composed for the Birmingham Musical Festival by Sir M. Costa. In full score, the additions being in Sir M. Costa's autograph. oblong folio. 1858.

Presented to the Society by Sir Michael Costa.

1622. IL CONVITO D'ALESSANDRO. An adaptation of "Alexander's Feast" to Italian words. In full score. oblong quarto.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. F. J. Stainforth.

1623. L'ALLEGRO, IL PENSIEROSO ED IL MODERATO. In full score. (The title-page and the greater part of the songs supplied from the printed copy of the Songs published by Walsh.) quarto.

1624. "RINALDO," an opera, by Rossi. In full score. folio.

This MS. (which is a transcript of J. C. Smith's copy of the original score) contains the recitatives and symphonies, as well as those portions of the instrumental score which are omitted in the printed copy. The solos for the Harpsichord, in the symphonies to the song "Vo far guerra e vincer," which are contained in the second printed edition, are not given in this copy, the places where they occur being (as in the first printed edition) left blank, with the word "Cembalo" written over. It was, doubtless, Handel's practice to play these solos at the performance extemporaneously.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. F. J. Stainforth.

1625. "IL PASTOR FIDO," an opera. In full score. folio.

This is also a transcript from Smith's copy of the original, containing the recitatives, &c., but wanting the three airs "Torni pure," "Accorrete, O voi pastori," and "Sciolga dunque," which are given in the printed copy of the favourite songs in this opera (see No. 8), and which are also to be found in the volume of MS. Music described under No. 1635.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. F. J. Stainforth.

1626. "AMADIGE" (Songs in), an opera. In full score. quarto.

1627. "RADAMISTO," an opera, by Nicolo Haym. In full score. quarto.

This copy contains some pieces not included in the printed score or the Arie aggiunte, and the instrumental score is often fuller than in those publications. Extracts from Dr. Burney's "History of Music," relating to the opera, are written within the cover and on the fly-leaf.

1628. "PTOLOMEO, RE D'EGITTO" (Ptolomy), an opera. In full score. quarto.

This copy differs in some respects from the printed score. Within the cover, and on the fly-leaf, is written an extract from Dr. Burney's "History of Music," relating to this opera.

1629. THIRTEEN ITALIAN DUETTS (usually called "The Chamber Duetts"), and Two Italian Trios. oblong quarto.

1630. FORTY-EIGHT CANTATAS, for a single voice, viz.

VOL. I.

Mi palpita il cor.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. F. J. Stainforth.

1632. THREE CANTATAS for a single voice, viz., "Usignuol che tra le frondi," "A voi torno," and "O Numi eterni" (La Lucretia).
 quarto.

Transcribed from MSS. in the British Museum, and presented to the Society by Miss Steere.

1633. SEVEN SONATAS, of three parts, in score, the first four of which are contained in the set of Six, printed in Arnold's edition of Handel's Works, and originally published at Amsterdam, in 1731.
 oblong quarto.

1634. SIX SONATAS, in score. See No. 1952.

1635. A VOLUME containing the following compositions, all, save the first-named, in full score. oblong folio.

The seventeen pieces commencing with the Prelude in G and terminating with the air "Del labro tuo l'accenti," and including the air "Non vuo mai seguita" (which also belongs to the opera, Il Pastor fido), are from the Masque printed by Dr. Arnold.

1636. FOREST MUSIC, composed by Handel during his residence in Ireland, A. D. 1741-2. quarto.

Presented to the Society by Horatio Townsend, Esq.

ECCLESIASTICAL MUSIC.

1637.

DAMS (Thomas). "O how amiable are Thy dwellings," an anthem for five voices. In score, in the autograph of the composer, by whom it was presented to the Society. oblong quarto. 1824.

1642. ANTHEMS AND SERVICES (A collection of), in separate parts.

Seven vols., containing the parts for the Medius, Contratenor Primus, and Tenor Decani, and the Medius, Contratenor Primus, Tenor and Bassus Cantoris. small folio.

The side of each volume is stamped with the name of the part it contains, the date "August XXII. 1625," and the initials J. B., and there is internal evidence of the books having belonged to the Rev. John Barnard, and formed part of the materials used by him in the compilation of his "First Book of Selected Church Musick," published at London in 1641. See No. 91. This collection contains the following services and anthems, of some of which, however, only one or two parts are included, owing to the irregular manner in which the books have been compiled. The pieces marked thus * are printed in the "Selected Church Musick."

The names of the following solo singers are written on the parts respectively used by them, viz. Mr. Baily and Mr. Mence (counter-tenors); Mr. Loyd (tenor); and Mr. Wass and Mr. Savage (basses).

1716. GREENE (Maurice), Mus. Doc. The Verse Service [Te Deum, Jubilate, Magnificat and Nunc dimittis] in C, which is printed in Arnold's Cathedral Music, Vol. II. In score, in the composer's autograph. "Begun at Farnham Castle in May, 1737, and finish'd in London in June following."
oblong folio. 1737.

Presented to the Society by Mr. J. A. Novello.

1717. GREENE (Maurice), Mus. Doc. Two Anthems, viz. "O God, Thou art my God," for countertenor solo and chorus, and "O give thanks," for countertenor and bass and chorus. In score in the composer's autograph. folio.

Bound up with the composer's Forty Select Anthems, London, 1743. [See No. 219.] The solo anthem is believed to be unpublished except that the last movement is identical with that of the anthem for three voices to the same words printed in the Forty Select Anthems. The two part anthem is printed (but with an alteration in the first movement) in the collection of Nine Anthems published by Lonsdale. Both anthems are contained in the manuscript collection made by Dr. Tudway for the Earl of Oxford (now in the British Museum) and a note by Dr. Greene at the end of the manuscript now under description leads to the inference that this was the copy supplied to Tudway for the purpose of his collection.

1718. HASSE (Giovanni Adolfo). The Psalm "Miserere mei, Deus," composed for four voices (two sopranos and two altos), with instrumental accompaniments. In full score. oblong quarto.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. F. J. Stainforth.

1719. HAWKINS (James). "Behold, O God, our defender," a Verse Anthem, in score, in the composer's autograph. small folio.

Prefixed are the words of the anthem (a selection of passages of Scripture intended to be applied to either the expelled king, James II., or his son) and the following dedication: "This Anthem of Intercession is most humbly Dedicated to the Very Rev^d Mr. Tomkinson and the rest of the Great, Good and Just Non-jurors of St John's College in Cambridge by Ja: Hawkins, organist of Ely."

1720. HOWARD (Samuel), Mus. Doc. "This is the day," an Anthem, with instrumental accompaniments. In separate parts, viz. 4 principal voices, 4 choral voices, 2 violins, viola, bassi, 2 hautboys, 2 trumpets, and drums. quarto.

Presented to the Society, together with a printed full score (See No. 254), by Mr. William Russell.

1721. HYMNS, &c. A Collection of Latin Hymns, Psalms, &c. for three, four, five, and six voices (each part being written separately, but on the same folio). The only composers' names given are those of Jacob Obrecht and Josquin des Pres, each of which is placed to one piece. The name "M^{ris} A.

Bolleyne" is written on one leaf. Towards the end of the volume two or three French Songs are inserted. Some of the initial letters are coloured. Written about the 16th century. small folio.

Presented to the Society by Mr. R. W. Haynes.

1722. HYMN (The) "Magnificat, anima mea," in Latin, for 4 voices, with accompaniments for 2 violins, violoncello and organ; without composer's name. In separate parts. quarto.
1723. JEFFERIES (George). A collection of Latin and English Motetts and Anthems for one, two and three voices, with basso continuo; "the composition and in the handwriting of George Jefferies, an organist of some celebrity in the middle of the 17th century." 1787. PURCELL (Henry). Fourteen Anthems with instrumental accompaniments (a portion in the composer's autograph). In full score. large folio.

My heart is fixed, O God.	O praise God in His holiness.
Praise the Lord, O my soul, and	In Thee, O Lord, do I put my
all that is within me.	trust.
I will give thanks unto the Lord.	The Lord is my light.
Unto Thee will I cry.	Rejoice in the Lord always.
I was glad.	Why do the heathen.
Behold now, praise the Lord.	My heart is inditing.
It is a good thing.	Behold, I bring you glad tidings.

Presented to the Society by Mr. Richard Clark.

1788. PURCELL (Henry). Hymns, Anthems and Latin Psalms, in the handwriting of Thomas Warren. In score. oblong quarto.

"Plung'd in the confines of despair." Hymn, 3 voices.
 "Lord, not to us." Hymn, 3 voices.
 "Hear me, O Lord, the great support." Hymn, 3 voices.
 "When on my sick bed I languish." Hymn, 3 voices. (Not included in Novello's "Purcell's Sacred Music," and believed to be unpublished.)
 "Since God so tender a regard." Hymn, 3 voices.
 "Ah! few and full of sorrows." Hymn, 4 voices.
 "Lord, I can suffer Thy rebuke." Hymn, 4 voices.
 "O Lord our governor." Hymn, 4 voices.
 "Early, O Lord, my fainting soul." Hymn, 4 voices.
 "Hear me, O Lord, and that soon." Anthem, 4 voices. (The first movement only.)
 "O all ye people, clap your hands." Hymn, 4 voices.
 "Beati omnes qui timent Dominum." Latin Psalm, 4 voices.
 "Gloria Patri, et Filio." 4 voices.
 "Jehova, quam multi sunt hostes." Latin Psalm, 5 voices.
 "Turn Thee again, O Lord God of Hosts." Anthem, 4 voices.
 "Hear my prayer, O God." Motett, 3 voices. (This is by another composer, whose name is not given.)
 "Turn Thou us, O good Lord." Anthem, 4 voices.

1789. PURCELL (Henry). Hymns, Anthems, &c. In score. The greater part in the handwriting of Dr. Philip Hayes, being transcripts of the composer's original MSS. Those marked thus * are believed to be unpublished. 2 vols. oblong folio.

VOLUME I.

"Since God so tender a regard." Hymn, 3 voices.
 "Early, O Lord, my fainting soul." Hymn, 4 voices.
 * "When on my sick bed I languish." Hymn, 3 voices.
 "O all ye people, clap your hands." Hymn, 4 voices.
 "Hear me, O Lord, the great support." Hymn, 3 voices.
 "Hear me, O Lord, and that soon." Anthem, 4 voices. (The first movement only.)
 "Full of wrath his threat'ning breath." Air.
 "Plung'd in the confines of despair." Hymn, 3 voices.
 "O Lord, our governor." Hymn, 4 voices.
 "Oh, I am sick of life." Hymn, 3 voices.
 "Lord, I can suffer Thy rebuke." Hymn, 4 voices.

"Ah, few and full of sorrows." Hymn, 4 voices.

This piece is incomplete, and was probably so left by the composer. The copy printed by Mr. Novello and that in the last described MS. contain no other evidence of incompleteness than the termination being out of the key; but the present copy affords additional proof, the measure changing on the last bar, and some of the words of an intended following movement being written.

"O happy man!" Hymn, 4 voices.

*"Crucior in hac flammâ." Hymn for 2 voices.

*"Laudate Ceciliam." Ode for 3 voices with instruments, for St. Cecilia's day, 1683.

"Beati omnes qui timent Dominum." Psalm, 4 voices.

"Gloria Patri, et Filio, &c." 4 voices.

"Jehova, quam multi sunt hostes." Psalm, 5 voices.

*A Fragment of a composition consisting of a symphony and part of a chorus, "We reap all the pleasures."

*"In a deep vision's intellectual scene." Cantata, 2 voices and chorus.

*"O that my grief were thoroughly weighed!" Anthem, 3 voices.

VOLUME II.

Antems.

I was glad.	Save me, O God.
O Lord, Thou art my God.	The way of God is an undefiled way.
Lord, how long wilt Thou be angry?	Who hath believed our report?
O Lord, our governor.	Praise the Lord, O my soul! O Lord my God.

1790. ROLLE (Johann Heinrich). A Mass (Kyrie and Gloria) for 4 voices with instruments. In full score. small folio.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. F. J. Stainforth.

1791. SACCHINI (Antonio). A Mass (Kyrie and Gloria) for two choirs with instruments. In full score. folio.

1792. SALVATORE (Giovanni). Responses for the Holy Week. In score. oblong quarto.

1793. SERVICE BOOK (A Latin), written on vellum, about the 15th century, containing Masses, Hymns, Antiphons, Lessons, &c. folio.

Bound in oak boards, covered with rough leather, with brass studs and corners.

1794. STEFFANI (Agostino). Twelve Motetts, for three voices. In score. large folio.

Reginam nostram.	Venite exultemus.
Qui pacem amatis.	Videte, gentes.
Felices adæ.	Cingete floribus.
Sonitus armorum.	Surge propera.
Floris agri.	Elevamini in voce tubæ.
Tandem adest.	Fuge, cara anima.

1795. STEFFANI (Agostino). "XII Motteta par celeberrimum Abbatem Stephanum." Identical with those contained in the preceding volume. In score. 4to.

Presented to the Society by Miss Emily Gregg.

1796. STEFFANI (Agostino). Two Motetts ("Cingete floribus" and "Videte, gentes"), for three voices with instrumental accompaniments. In full score, in the handwriting of William Walond. small folio.

Scores of these motetts, without the accompaniments, are contained in the two last described volumes.

oblong folio. Venice.

1825. LANCIANI (Carlo Flavio). "Il Martirio di S. Eustachio," an oratorio, in full score. oblong quarto.

This volume formerly belonged to Cardinal Ottoboni, whose insignia are stamped on the covers.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. F. J. Stainforth.

1826. MENDELSSOHN BARTHOLDY (Felix). Elijah, an oratorio. In vocal score. The greater part in the autograph of the composer. quarto.

This copy was transmitted by the composer to the late Mr. William Bartholomew for the purpose of his adapting English words to the oratorio. The version is the revised one made by the composer after the first production of the oratorio at Birmingham in August, 1846, although in some cases (amongst others the scene between Elijah and the Widow) both versions are given. Of the choruses, except in a very few instances, there is only an arrangement of the accompaniments for pianoforte, the voice parts being left blank. This, doubtless, was owing to the fact of but little alteration having been made in the choruses. Such changes as were made (notably, that in the Recitative Chorus, "The deeps afford no water"), are very carefully noted. The air "O rest in the Lord," and some less important portions are wanting.

Presented to the Society by Mrs. Bartholomew.

1827. PAISIELLO (Giovanni). "La Passione di Gesù Cristo," an oratorio by Metastasio. In full score. oblong quarto.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. F. J. Stainforth.

1830. PICCINNI (Nicola). "Gionata," an oratorio. In full score, in the composer's autograph. oblong quarto.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. F. J. Stainforth.

1831. SPOHR (Louis). "The Last Judgment," an oratorio. In full score, with English and German text. A portrait of the composer is inserted. oblong large folio.

1832. SPOHR (Louis). "Des Heilands letzte Stunden" [The last hours of the Saviour], an oratorio, known in England under the titles of the 'Crucifixion,' and 'Calvary.' In full score, with the English text by Professor Taylor.

2 vols. oblong folio.

A memorandum, in the autograph of the composer, referring to the first performance of this oratorio by the Society, on 5th July, 1852 (at which he was present), is written at the foot of the title-page.

1833. STANLEY (John), Mus. Bac. The Fall of Egypt, an oratorio by Dr. Hawkesworth. In full score. 3 vols. oblong folio.

1834. STANLEY (John), Mus. Bac. "Jephthah," an oratorio by Dr. John Free. In full score. folio.

Presented to the Society by Mr. M. S. Forristall.

1835. STRADELLA (Alessandro). "San Giovanni Battista," an oratorio, in full score. oblong folio.

1842. BONONCINI (M. A.) "Camilla," an opera, translated from the Italian by Owen Swiny. In full score. folio. circa 1706.
See the printed copy of the songs, No. 737, and the libretto, No. 2809.
1843. BOYCE (William), Mus. Doc. The Masque in Shakspeare's play of "The Tempest." In full score. oblong quarto.
This music, consisting of a song, two duets, and two recitatives for the characters of Ceres and Hymen, was written for one of the altered versions of the play.
1844. BOYCE (William), Mus. Doc. The Secular Masque, written in the year 1700 by John Dryden. In full score, in the composer's autograph. oblong quarto.
1845. BRAHAM (John) and M. P. KING. The Americans, a comic opera, by S. J. Arnold. In full score. oblong quarto. [1811.]
Beyond the name of Braham being affixed to one song and three duets, there is no indication of each composer's share in the piece.
1846. BRAHAM (John) and Charles Edward HORN. The Devil's Bridge, an opera, by S. J. Arnold. In full score. oblong quarto [1812].
The name of Horn is affixed to the overture, but the shares of the two composers in the rest of the opera are undistinguished.
1847. CIMAROSA (Domenico). "Il Pittore Parigino," an opera. In full score. oblong quarto. 1803.
1848. DITTERSDORFF (Carl). "Il Tribunale di Giove," serenata (with a prologue), composed in 1774. In full score. 2 vols. folio.
1849. ECCLES (John). The Music in Shakspeare's tragedy of "Macbeth." In full score. quarto.
1850. ENTERTAINMENT (A Musical). In full score. folio.
This piece is without title, but is described in the prologue (spoken in the character of Momus) as "A new fram'd Entertainment, no Comedie, no Tragedie, no Opera, no Pastoral, no Farce." It seems a kind of extravaganza, or mixture of masque, pantomime and musical farce. Descriptions of several of the scenes are given. The name of James Kremberg, one of the Musicians in ordinary to Queen Anne, is affixed to some of the music as composer, and it is probable that the whole is by him.

1851. FINGER (Godfrey). "The Virgin Prophetess, or, the Fate of Troy," an opera, by Elkanah Settle. In full score.

folio. circa 1701.

The greater part of the spoken dialogue is given in addition to the music. See also the instrumental music in No. 1591.

1852. GALLIARD (John Ernest). The Rape of Proserpine, a musical entertainment, by Lewis Theobald. In full score. Transcribed by A. T. Roffe. quarto. [London, 1861.]

1853. GREENE (Maurice), Mus. Doc. Florimel; or, Love's Revenge, a dramatic pastoral, by Dr. John Hoadly, composed in 1737. In full score. oblong quarto. A printed copy of the libretto, quarto, Winchester, n. d.; is inserted.

1854. GREENE (Maurice), Mus. Doc. The same. In vocal score, oblong quarto, with separate parts for the stringed quartett, 4 books. quarto.

1855. HAYDN (Joseph). "Armida," an opera, composed in the year 1783. In full score, in the autograph of the composer.

oblong quarto.

This opera was sent to England by Haydn, in fulfilment of an engagement entered into by him when in this country, to furnish an opera for the King's Theatre. During the interval between the making of the engagement and the sending the opera, an alteration had taken place in the management of the theatre; and on arrival of the work, the new manager refused to receive it, and it was consequently never brought out.

1856. JOMELLI (Nicolo). Airs from the opera "Argentina," composed in 1757. In full score. oblong quarto.

"Ma quel voce."
"Per me solo."
"Amato genitore."

"Non so trovar."
"Se un ingrata."
"Partiro."

1857. LAMPE (John Frederick). The Dragon of Wantley: a burlesque opera, by Henry Carey. In full score. In the handwriting of Thomas Barrow, gentleman of the chapel-royal. quarto.

See also No. 852.

- 1857* MAYER (Johann Simon). Elisa, an opera. In full score.

2 vols. oblong quarto.

1858. MEYERBEER (Giacomo). The Demon, a grand opera, adapted from Robert le Diable for performance at Drury Lane Theatre, and scored by Sir H. R. Bishop, T. Cooke, R. Hughes and M. Corri. The instrumental score only in the autographs of the adapters.

2 vols. oblong quarto. London, 1832.

1859. PEPUSCH (John Christopher), Mus. Doc. Venus and Adonis, a masque, by Colley Cibber. In full score, with separate parts for First Violin (2), Second Violin (3), Tenor, Bassi (3), and First and Second Hautboys. quarto. circa 1715.
1860. PEPUSCH (John Christopher), Mus. Doc. Apollo and Daphne, a masque, by John Hughes. In full score. quarto. circa 1716.
1861. PEREZ (David). A collection of Italian operas, written (except one) by Metastasio; composed chiefly for the opera at Lisbon. In full score. 19 vols. oblong quarto.

1863. PURCELL (Daniel). "The Grove; or, Love's Paradise," an opera, by John Oldmixon. In full score. folio. circa 1700.
1864. PURCELL (Henry). Music in the play of "Timon of Athens" (as altered from Shakspeare by Thomas Shadwell), consisting of an overture, instrumental music, and a masque. In full score. quarto.
- The first three movements of the overture are identical with the "Trumpet Sonata" contained in the MS. described under No. 1933, Vol. I., save that the trumpet part is omitted in this copy. The same three movements (slightly altered) also form the overture to the ode for the Duke of Gloucester's Birthday, 1695. (See No. 1921)
1865. PURCELL (Henry). Part of the Music in the Indian Queen. See No. 1663.

The original Notarial Protest under the hand and seal of Benjamin Bonnet, Notary Public in London, stating the refusal of George Amyand, Handel's executor, to accept a bill of exchange drawn upon him by Jean George, Jean Geofroy, Jean Frederyk, and Christiane Dorothea Taust, and Charles Auguste Tritze, the young lady's guardian, for £1,500 (copies of which bill and of the verification of the signatures of the drawers are annexed), on the ground that the same should have been drawn for £1,200 only. (The bequest was £300 to each of the five remaining children of George Taust, whilst the bill for £1,500 was signed by four of them only.) These documents belonged to the Taust family, there being a memorandum by Dr. Theodore Roehrig on the office copy of the will that he received the same from his aunt, Auguste Kroll (of the Taust family), who had received it with the inheritance of her uncle, George Frederic Handel.

AUTOGRAPHS.

BT (Franz). Signature to a letter in English, dated 25th June, 1862, to Robert Kanzow Bowley, soliciting admissions for himself and daughter to the Handel Festival Performance at the Crystal Palace, on Friday 27th June, 1862.

Presented to the Society by Mr. R. K. Bowley.

2002. ATTWOOD (Thomas). Letter dated November 8th, 1837, to Edward Taylor, Professor of Music in Gresham College from 1837 to 1863, giving him certain particulars respecting Richard John Samuel Stevens, Taylor's predecessor in the office.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. J. E. Cox, D.D.

2003. AYRTON (William). Letter, dated November 16th, 1837, to Edward Taylor, conveying to him some particulars of Dr. Theodore Aylward, one of Taylor's predecessors in the post of Professor of Music in Gresham College.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. J. E. Cox, D.D.

2004. BEETHOVEN (Johann Van), brother to the composer. Letter in German, dated Vienna, 24 February, 1825, offering the right of publication in England, Scotland, Ireland, America, and India, of seven of his brother's compositions (op. 124 to 130), for sale for £40.
2005. BEETHOVEN (Ludwig Van). Letter in German, dated Baden [near Vienna?], 10 July, 1813, to Herr Narena, alluding to some litigation into which he expected to be driven, "in-defence of his rights," requesting the return of some of his works lent to Narena, and especially the Symphonies in C minor and B, and a March; his Oratorio he did not immediately require; thanking him for fifty florins sent by the Foresters, and expressing an intention of arranging on his return [to Vienna?] a performance for the benefit of the Ursulines, or some other institution which could be shown to require it.
2006. BEETHOVEN (Ludwig Van). Letter in German, undated and unsigned, to Herr Van Holz, apprising him of his discovery (after Holz had left his house on the previous evening) of some mislaid spoons, which he had supposed lost, and his consequent recovery of his equanimity, and inviting Holz to dine with him on the following Sunday, when he would give him a full explanation. The general tone of this letter evinces a desire on the part of the writer to remove an unpleasant feeling which he appears sensible of having occasioned.
2007. BISHOP (Sir Henry Rowley). Note, dated May 11th, 1843, to Mr. Lonsdale, inclosing a list of principal singers, and respecting an arrangement for forwarding some tickets for the Concerts of Ancient Music.
2008. BOIELDIEU (Adrien). Letter in French, dated "Friday evening," to Persius, containing remarks on an opera composed by the latter, and suggestions for the improvement of several passages therein.
2009. DONIZETTI (Gaetano). Letter in Italian, dated 28th December, 1843, to Sir Michael Costa, introducing to him a friend of the writer visiting England.

Presented to the Society by Sir Michael Costa.

2010. ELLIOTT (James). Note, dated November 10th, 1837, to Richard Taylor, informing him of the particulars of the connection of Richard John Samuel Stevens, the glee composer, with the Catch Club.

Presented to the Society by the Rev. J. E. Cox, D.D.

2011. FRESCOBALDI (Girolomo). Letter in Italian, dated Rome, 1 October, 1609, apparently to one of his patrons, complaining of some calumnious reports circulated respecting his conduct towards a pupil, and expressing his determination to prove their falsehood.
2012. GIBBONS (Orlando). Signature to a receipt dated 24th February, 1617, for £10, a quarter's pension due to him as one of his Highness's musicians at the preceding Christmas. A piece has been torn out of the side of this document, by which the whole of the surname except the initial has become lost.
2013. GRETRY (André). Letter in French, dated "à l'Hermitage, J. J. Rousseau, 10 Juin, 1811," to M. Henkart, Juge de Tribunal, à Liège, expressing his gratification on hearing of a fête given in his honour.
2014. HANDEL (George Frederic). Letter in French, dated London, $\frac{27}{2}$ October, 1730, to Francis Colman, British Envoy at Florence, thanking him for his assistance in negotiating an engagement with Senesino, the singer, for the Opera House in the Haymarket, then under the management of Handel and Heidegger.
2015. HORN (Charles Edward). Note, dated October 29th, 1845, to Edward Taylor, presenting to him a glee and a cantata of the writer's composition.
Presented to the Society by the Rev. J. E. Cox, D.D.
2016. HUMMEL (Johann Nepomuk). Letter in German, dated Vienna, 11 September, 1799, to Johann André, of Offenbach, the music publisher, respecting the publication of a newly composed cantata by Hummel, entitled "Die Siegesfeyer."
2017. LULLY (Jean Baptiste). Signature to a receipt, dated 16th January, 1697, for 600 livres on account of his salary as court musician, &c.
2018. MENDELSSOHN BARTHOLDY (Felix). Letter in German, dated Leipsic, 21 November, 1839, addressed to Herr Tretbar of Brunswick, relative to the appearance of the latter at the Leipsic concerts.
2019. MENDELSSOHN BARTHOLDY (Felix). Letter in German, dated Berlin, 5 May, 1840, to Schlesinger, the music publisher of Vienna, acknowledging the receipt of a parcel of music.
2020. MENDELSSOHN BARTHOLDY (Felix). Letter in English, dated Leipsic, 11 May, 1846, addressed to William Bartholomew. Expresses many thanks for Mr. Bartholomew's letter of the 4th, and hastens to tell him that the oratorio for the Birmingham Festival is not the Athalia (nor the Cædipus, of course) but a much greater and (to him) more important work than both together ; that it is not yet quite finished, but that he writes continually to finish it in time ; and that he intends sending over the first part (the longest of the two it will have) in the course of the next ten or twelve days. He asked Mr. Moore from Birmingham to have it translated by Mr. Bartholomew, and he has no doubt he [Moore] will communicate with Mr. Bartholomew about it as soon as he gets his [Mendelssohn's] letter which he wrote four or five days ago ; and he begs Mr. Bartholomew will be good enough, if he can undertake it, to try to find some leisure time towards the end of this month, that the choral parts with English words may be as soon as possible in the hands of the chorus singers. Prays him to give it his best English words, for till then he feels so much more interest in this work than for his others, and he only wishes it may so last with him.

The oratorio mentioned in this letter is Elijah.

Presented to the Society by Mrs. Bartholomew.

2021. MENDELSSOHN BARTHOLDY (Felix). Letter in English, dated Leipsic, 7th October, 1846, addressed to Thomas Brewer, Honorary Secretary to the Sacred Harmonic Society. Expresses his best thanks for the letter, dated Sept. 24th, and it gives him much pleasure that the Sacred Harmonic Society will undertake the first performance of his Elijah before a London audience. Thanks the Committee most sincerely for their flattering intention, and, of course, should be most happy to conduct the work himself on such an occasion, if he could come to London in April next. Hopes and trusts he may have that pleasure, and that nothing may prevent him from doing so. But he is still doubtful, and cannot give a positive promise as far as regards his coming over ; and as for the parts which you wish to have as soon as possible, he shall speak to the Editor of them, Mr. Buxton, who, he hears, is expected shortly in Leipsic, and will ask him to let you have them as soon as they can be ready.

The letter is accompanied by a transcript of the letter of Mr. Brewer mentioned in it.

2022. MEYERBEER (Giacomo). Letter in German, dated "Monday Evening," to Herr Goderth, respecting the adjustment of the words to a passage in one of the writer's compositions.
2023. NOVELLO (Vincent). Three letters to George Gwilt, one dated July 6, 48, appointing to call on and dine with him; another dated Aug^t. 13, 48, relative to some anthems by Dr. Boyce furnished to Novello for his edition of those compositions; and the third dated Sept^r. 2, 48, accompanying some books, and on other subjects.
2024. PAER (Ferdinand). Letter in French, dated Paris, 16th December, 1824, to M. le Vicomte expressing (at the Viscount's request) his opinion of the merits of Madlle. Schaurot, a pianiste, and asking that he might be allowed to receive the proceeds of the first performance every year of a new opera which he had composed for the Theatre Italien.
2025. PAER (Ferdinand). A paper in French, undated and unsigned, setting forth his motives for desiring that his opera, Agnese, might not be reproduced at the time of writing, [in Paris?].
2026. PISTRUCCI (Filippo). Sonnet, in Italian, dated 15th June, 1838, addressed to Edward Taylor, Professor of Music in Gresham College, on his public delivery on 12th, 13th and 14th June, 1838, of lectures on the Vocal Harmony of the Italian School in the 16th century.
- Presented to the Society by the Rev. J. E. Cox, D.D.
2027. PLAYFORD (Henry). Letter, dated "Temple Change, June 4, 1703," to his cousin [Mr. Lewis?] requesting the loan of £10.
2028. PLAYFORD (Henry). Letter, dated "Temple Change, July 21, 1703," to his cousin, Mr. Lewis, requesting payment of £5, balance of £10, the price of a picture.
2029. PLAYFORD (John). Certificate, as Clerk of the Temple Church, of the burial there, on 28th June, 1683, of Sir Edmond Sanders, Knight, Lord' Chief Justice of the Court of King's Bench.
2030. ROSSINI (Gioachino). Letter, in Italian, dated Paris, 6th November, 1856, to Sir Michael Costa, thanking him for a present of a Stilton cheese, and complimenting him on his success as an oratorio composer [in reference to Eli, produced at Birmingham Musical Festival in 1855, and in London by the Sacred Harmonic Society in 1856.]

Presented to the Society by Sir M. Costa.

Although the edition of 1655 above described is commonly reputed to be the first, the work was really first published in 1654. Only one copy of that edition is now known to exist. Besides the numbered editions not included in the present collection, four or five other unnumbered editions were issued at different times. There are variations, frequently extensive and important, in every edition. Those editions marked with an asterisk contain The Order of performing Cathedral Service.
